

The Notice of RMB Remittance to China

To : Dear Our Customers:

We offer RMB outward remittance, in single outward remittance's amount must not exceed RMB 80,000. If the remitter and the payee are the same person who owns account with Bank of China at the same time, there is no annual limit control for remittance. However ,the total amount of remittance must not exceed RMB 80,000 each day

- (1) The remitter must check in advance about its Bank of China Beneficiary's Bank branch code 12-digit CNAP (China National Advanced Payment System) in order to transfer smoothly.
- (2) The Chinese government only allows individuals to remit for the purpose of personal income and household. The remittance is not allowed to pay procurement expenses.
- (3) Remittance to China must follow relevant regulations of People's Bank of China. If the remittance is incorrect or inconsistent with the regulations, the Bank of China will return the remittance to our bank directly. We will exchange the returned proceeds into Thai Baht based on the (Buying TT) exchange rate on the day been notified the returned proceeds and credit into the remitters' accounts.

Thank you for banking with us.

Mega International Commercial Bank PCL

Feb 1, 2012